Subject: Coronavirus Information and Resources for UC Davis International Students and Scholars

Dear international students and scholars,

We continue to follow the developments of Coronavirus (COVID-19) and monitor situations on campus and around the world. Your safety, wellbeing, and educational experience are our priorities. As such, we are writing to assure you procedures are in place to support you. We are also writing to remind you of campus updates as well as other information and resources available to support you during what we understand may be a challenging time for you and your family.

Please see this link for more information and resources specific to our international student and scholar community (available in English and Mandarin), which we will continue to update. As always, our Services for International Students and Scholars (SISS) office is here to answer your specific questions related to your visa and/or immigration status.

Best wishes,

Joanna Regulska
Vice Provost and Associate Chancellor of Global Affairs
